Dear Chris,

I've just finished the 3-day impressive trip in Rome. I am writing this mail to you to share my wonderful experiences in that fantastic city. I saw so many tourist attractions, like Roman Forum, the center of public and political life in Ancient Rome, and the vast Coliseum, the largest outdoor theater. Besides, i couldn't tear my eyes away from many masterpieces of the Renaissance period, like sculptures and paintings.

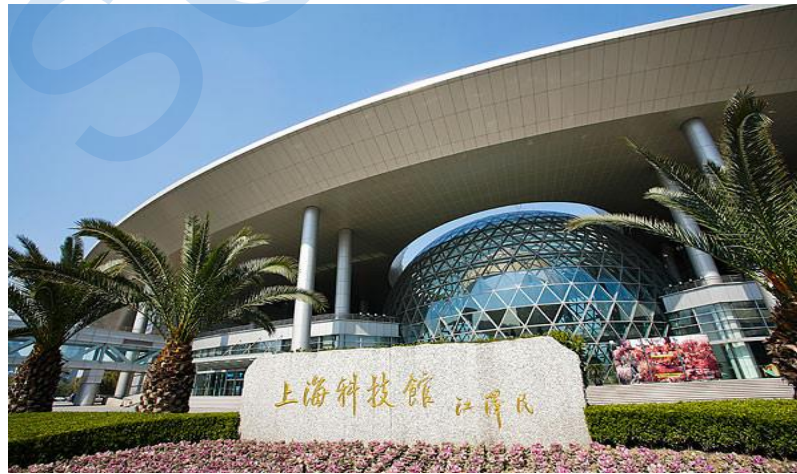

Apart from these fascinating constructions and masterpieces, Rome also features both luxury stores and other shops in my price range. These shops provide me with a perfect opportunity to buy some souvenirs of high quality for my family and friends. I loved Rome very much.

By the way, it is said that you will also begin your 3-day trip in Shanghai. Excellent! Shanghai is a fascinating modern city in East Asia. Maybe you have to make an effort to overcome the obstacle to communication there. Anyway, I am still looking forward to hearing your terrific travel experiences in Shanghai. Enjoy your trip there.

Yours,
Eleanor

Hi, Chris,

Nice to hear from you, as you prefer a city with a mixture of modern and ancient life. I strongly recommend Shanghai.

What are the features of Shanghai and famous tourist attractions in Shanghai?

On the first day, you'd better take the subway line 2 at the Pudong International Airport and get off at East Nanjing Rd. You can check in at Sofitel at around 1 p.m. and have a rest. About 2 hours later, you can walk around on East Nanjing Road, where there are many modern shopping malls, time-honored stores, like Shimao Plaza, No.1 Department Store. Meanwhile, you can taste some local snacks in Shanghai First Foodhall. At 19:00, you can enjoy the fantastic night view on both sides of the Huangpu River and western style buildings decorated with colorful light. Then, you should take a Huangpu River cruise. You won't tear your eyes away from the impressive night scene on the Huangpu River. Finally, you can return to Sofitel, a pleasant end of the first day trip.

Assignment

1. Compose an email to Chris, recommending a city to him and the three-day travel plan you have made for him.

Hi, Chris,

Nice to hear from you, as you prefer a city with a history (beautiful scenery ...), I strongly recommend Shanghai.

Yours,
