For reference:

English Learning by Doing

The idea of “learning by doing” applies to my English learning. In my daily life, I always find opportunities to communicate with native speakers. Whenever I encounter a native speaker, I won’t hesitate to start a friendly conversation with him. Additionally, I listen to BBC news every day so that I can practice my listening by exposing myself to authentic English all the time. Furthermore, I often read English classics to appreciate English literature. In doing so, my English has greatly improved because I have engaged myself in the learning process.

Assignment

Polish the article of “learning by doing” in 90-110 words referring to the sample writing on P15.

Interactive Activity

Share your experiences of “learning by doing” with your teacher and classmates.
