

上海市英语教育研究基地

ENGLISH

英语

必修 第二册

上海外语教育出版社

《高中英语》（上外版）

必修 第二册

上海市英语教育教研基地 上海外语教育出版社

Unit 3 Food

Period 1 Getting Started & Reading A

Period 2 Reading A & Vocabulary Focus

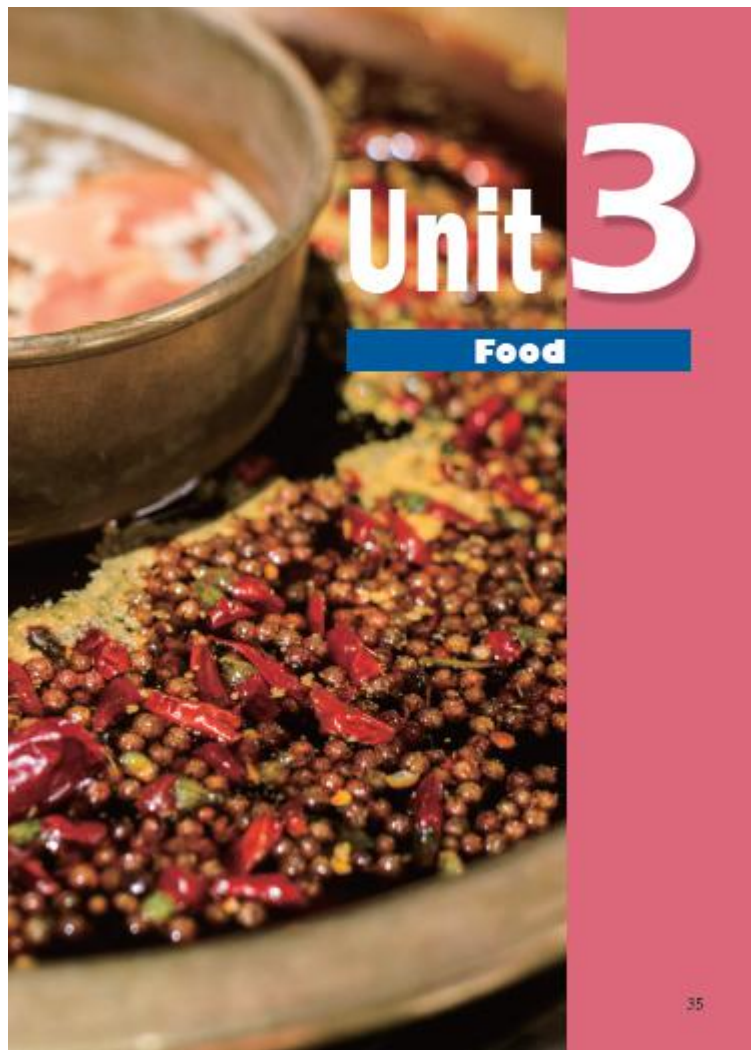

Period 3 Grammar in Use

Period 4 Moving Forward: Writing

Period 5 Listening & Moving Forward:
Speaking

Period 6 Viewing & Reading B

Period 7 Reading B & Critical Thinking

Period 4 Moving Forward: Writing

——王芳 上海市光明中学

Unit Organisation

Period No.	Objectives	Activities
1
2
3
4	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. To get the hang of how to write in topical order;2. To introduce dining in China in topical order in 70-90 words;3. To use proper title, subtitles, images and format in writing to deliver information and express ideas.	<ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Writing preparation2. Writing task3. After Writing evaluation
5
6
7

Sample 1

Dining Customs Around the World: Eating Utensils

There are three methods of eating in the world: with forks, with fingers and with chopsticks. Most people in Europe, Australia and North America eat with a knife and fork. Chopsticks are widely used in East Asia. Fingers are the most widespread eating tool, commonly practised in India, Sri Lanka, Indonesia, the Middle East and much of Africa. Globally, there are fewer fork-feeders than the other two groups of eaters.

Sample 2

Dining Customs Around the World: Eating Utensils

Most people in Europe, Australia and North America eat with a knife and fork. Chopsticks are widely used in East Asia. There are three methods of eating in the world: with forks, with fingers and with chopsticks. Fingers are the most widespread eating tool, commonly practised in India, Sri Lanka, Indonesia, the Middle East and much of Africa. Globally, there are fewer fork-feeders than the other two groups of eaters.

Samples

Sample 1 Dining Customs Around the World: Eating Utensils

There are three methods of eating in the world: with forks, with fingers and with chopsticks. Most people in Europe, Australia and North America eat with a knife and fork. Chopsticks are widely used in East Asia. Fingers are the most widespread eating tool, commonly practised in India, Sri Lanka, Indonesia, the Middle East and much of Africa. Globally, there are fewer fork-feeders than the other two groups of eaters.

Sample 2 Dining Customs Around the World: Eating Utensils

Most people in Europe, Australia and North America eat with a knife and fork. Chopsticks are widely used in East Asia. There are three methods of eating in the world: with forks, with fingers and with chopsticks. Fingers are the most widespread eating tool, commonly practised in India, Sri Lanka, Indonesia, the Middle East and much of Africa. Globally, there are fewer fork-feeders than the other two groups of eaters.

A sample writing in topical order

Dining Customs Around the World: Eating Utensils

topic

sub-topics

sub-topic 1:
forks

The three methods of eating in the world: with forks, with fingers and with chopsticks. Most people in Europe, Australia and North America eat with a knife and fork. Chopsticks are widely used in East Asia. Fingers are the most

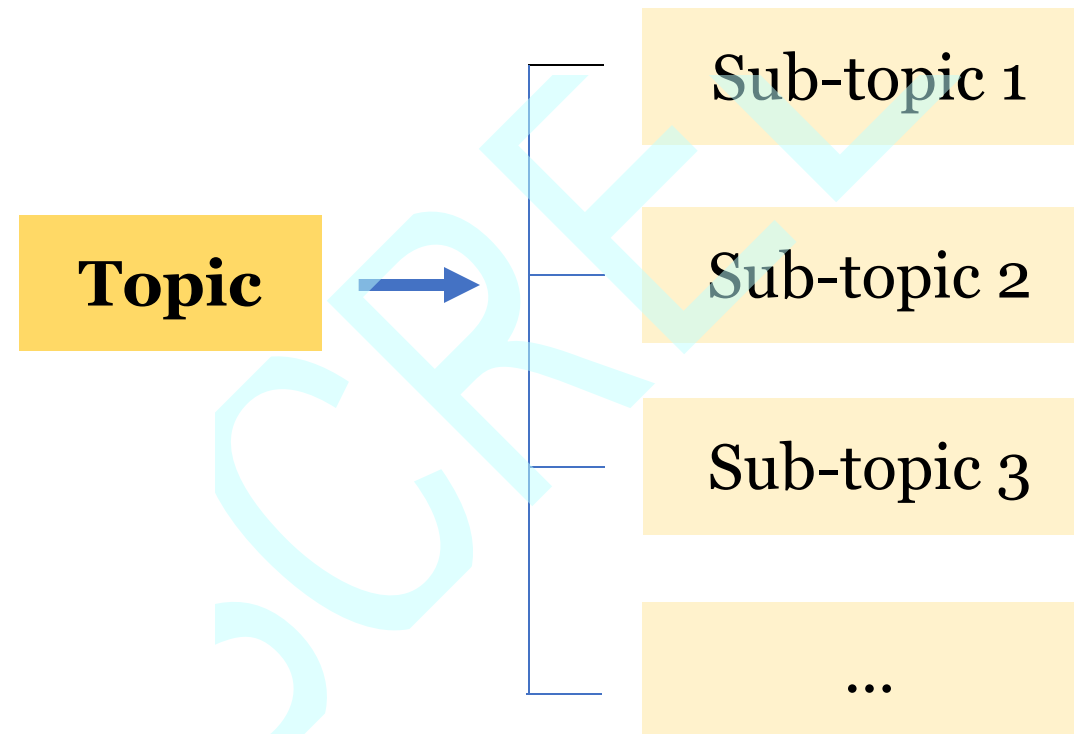

sub-topic 2:
chopsticks

preferred eating tool, commonly practised in India, Sri Lanka, Indonesia, the Middle East and much of Africa. Globally, there are fewer forks than the other two groups of eaters.

sub-topic 3:
fingers

How to write in topical order?

Structure

Brainstorming

What dining culture shock will Westerners most probably experience in China?

Task: Contributing to a brochure

Section 2: Foods and Dining Customs

Dining customs in China

- Seating
- Eating utensils
- Table manners

Typical foods in China

- Cold dishes
- Meat and vegetables
- Staple foods
- Desserts and snacks
- Soups

Table of Contents

Step 1: Choosing a topic

Section 2: Foods and Dining Customs

Dining customs in China

- Seating
- Eating utensils
- Table manners

Typical foods in China

- Cold dishes
- Meat and vegetables
- Staple foods
- Desserts and snacks
- Soups

- Which topic is the culture shock you mentioned related to?
- How to introduce this topic to Westerners?
- What sub-topics can the topic be divided into?
- How to describe each sub-topic briefly?
- What possible explanations can you give for the culture shock you mentioned?

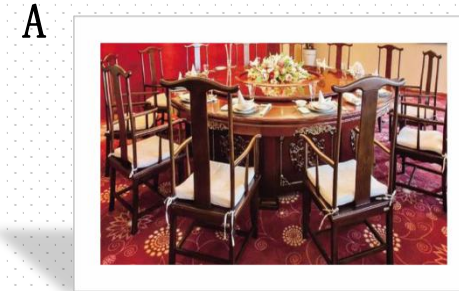

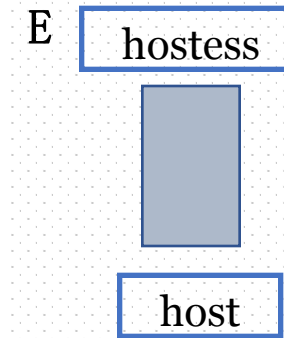

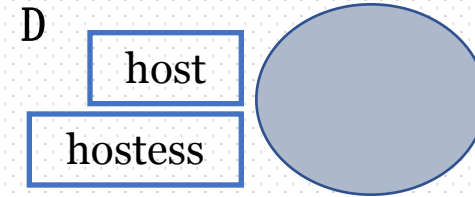

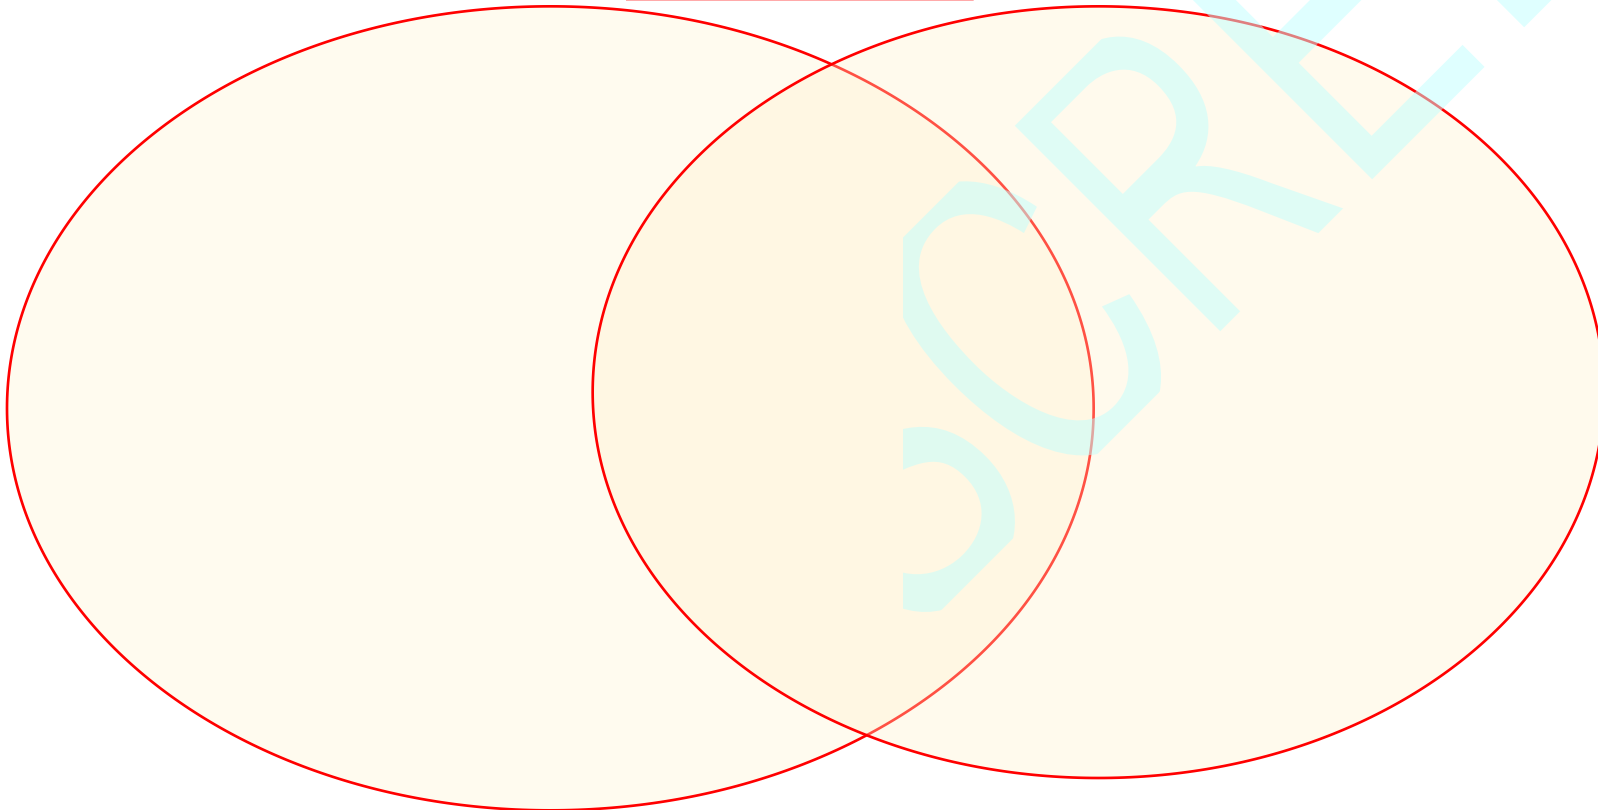

Step 2: Enriching the Content (e.g., Seating)

Seating in China and in the West

In China (Contrast)

In the West (Contrast)

Comparison

Step 2: Enriching the Content (e.g., Seating)

Comparison

“seat of honor”

Expressions:

Contrast

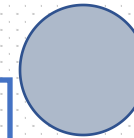

VS

host hostess

VS

hostess

host

Expressions:

Cause

Expressions:

Step 3: Using proper cohesive devices

Upon receiving the invitation, the presents we are going to prepare vary from region to region. In China people are used to sending fruits as gifts to the friends while people in America prefer to send flowers.

When Americans arrive at the door of a friend's house, unlike Chinese people, who tend to shake hands, they kiss each other on the cheek.

Expressions for Contrast

while, unlike, whereas, but, however, in contrast

Step 3: Using proper cohesive devices

Dining Customs Around the World: Eating Utensils

I'd like to illustrate eating utensils from three aspects: forks, fingers and chopsticks. Most people in Europe, Australia and North America eat with a knife and fork. Chopsticks are widely used in East Asia. Fingers are the most widespread eating tool, commonly practised in India, Sri Lanka, Indonesia, the Middle East and much of Africa. Globally, there are fewer fork-feeders than the other two groups of eaters.

Sentence Patterns for Illustrating Topics

I'd like to illustrate the topic ... from several aspects: ...
The topic consists of several sub-topics: ...
The topic covers several aspects, and they are ...
The topic can be divided into several parts /sections / categories, which are ...

Step 4: Drafting

Section 2: Foods and Dining Customs

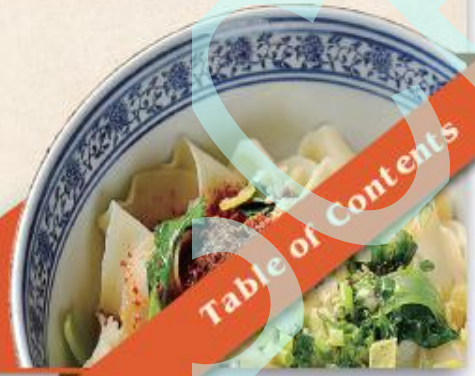

Dining customs in China

- Seating
- Eating utensils
- Table manners

Typical foods in China

- Cold dishes
- Meat and vegetables
- Staple foods
- Desserts and snacks
- Soups

Choose one topic from the Table of Contents. Write an article in 90 words or less. Your article should include:

- (1) general information about the topic;
- (2) examples of possible culture shock foreigners may experience;
- (3) cross-cultural comparison and possible explanations of the cultural differences.

Step 5: Checking and revising

Checklist

- Do I organise ideas and write in topical order?
- Do I provide examples of possible culture shock?
- Do I make cross-cultural comparison and give explanations of the cultural differences?
- Do I use proper cohesive devices?
- Do I use correct grammar and spelling?

Brochure elements

Section 2: Foods and Dining Customs

Image

Dining customs in China

Title

Format

- Seating
- Eating utensils
- Table manners

Subtitle

Typical foods in China

Title

- Cold dishes
- Meat and vegetables
- Staple foods
- Desserts and snacks
- Soups

Subtitle

Table of Contents

Image

Assignments

1. Search for more relevant information online.

Websites for reference:

- ① https://www.etiquettescholar.com/dining_etiquette/table-manners.html
- ② <https://www.travelchinaguide.com/essential/chinese-etiquette/table-manners/>

Assignments

2. Individual task:

to revise or rewrite the draft based on peer suggestions.

3. Group task:

to collect students' articles and arrange them in the form of a brochure by using proper titles, subtitles, icons, images, charts and format.

Thank you!

